From the Editor's Desk

The Golden Jubilee Celebrations of the Central Institute of Indian Languages remains the highlight of this quarter for NTM. The Mission and its staff actively participated in the programme that was also graced by Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu, Hon'ble Vice President of India. As part of the celebrations, all major schemes of the Institute had put up stalls to exhibit their mandated activities. The stall of the National Translation Mission received a lot of attention and appreciation from the visitors including senior academics of the country. It was a good occasion for NTM to showcase and advertise its activities, and also invite participation in them. The routine work of the Mission such as translation of Knowledge Texts, development of lexical resources, reviewing and validation of translations, and publication activities remained intense as always. The Mission launched several translations in this quarter. Some of these translations have been carried out by the in-house language consultants of NTM. The Mission is proud of their achievements on this front and hopes that they will continue their intensity and rigour. The Mission has also completed several manuscripts and submitted them for publication. Hopefully, the next bulletin will carry a lot of good news on the publication front. Best wishes in the meantime.

Dr. Tariq Khan
Officer-in-charge, NTM

From the Advisory Member's Desk

This was a fruitful quarter as far as the translation works are concerned and it will lead to many more avenues in the coming months. More emphasis needs to be given on the books in streamline so that new tasks can be taken up. A lot more practical work needs to be done with regard to Knowledge Text translations and subsequent works. We look forward to work as a team for a better outcome.

Workshop

Five days workshop on Editing and Finalising the Kannada Translation of the text 'Administrative Thinkers' by D. Ravindra Prasad, V. S. Prasad, P. Satyanarayan and Y. Pardhasaradhi

The National Translation Mission, CIIL organized a five days workshop on "Editing and Finalising the Kannada Translation of the text 'Administrative Thinkers' by D. Ravindra Prasad, V. S. Prasad, P. Satyanarayan and Y. Pardhasaradhi" from 1 - 5 July 2019. The translation, which is an in-house translation by Dr. Usharani, had a total of twenty one chapters in 300 pages.

A team of six experts participated in the workshop, which comprised of Prof. Meena Deshapande, Prof. Narasimha Murthy, Dr. Girija K. S. and Dr. Sudha G. as discipline experts and Prof. Lakshminarayan Aurora and Sri B. V. Sridhar as the Kannada language experts.

During the workshop the translation was reviewed by both the discipline and language experts. Discipline experts could complete the finalization of ten chapters from the subject point of view, whereas out of the ten finalized chapters only four chapters were finalized by the language experts from the language usage and presentation points of view. Since the book is technical in nature, the team opined that two more workshops would be required to complete the editing and finalization of the script.

Experts with NTM authority & Kannada staff of NTM during the Inaugural function of the workshop

On the last day of the workshop Dr. Tariq Khan, Officer-in-Charge, NTM and coordinator of the workshop spoke to the experts reiterating the relevance and importance of Knowledge Text translation in regional languages. Dr. C. V. Sivaramakrishana, Head, NTM briefed the participants about the nature and objectives of the workshop. Dr. Manjulakshi L. proposed vote of thanks. The team of experts thanked the organizers of NTM and CIIL for the hospitality extended and comfortable stay provided to them.

NTM staff Dr. Manjulakshi L., Ms. Chayadevi and Dr. Usha Rani R. participated in the workshop providing the experts with necessary information and support.

Translation Today

The National Translation Mission has published a special issue of the Translation Today, titled Translation, Nation and Knowledge Society with 23 select papers from the two programmes, one was a conference on “Translation and Knowledge Society” in March 2018 and another one was a seminar on “Translation and Nation” in September 2018. The issue deals with various aspects of Translation Studies and will serve as an engaging scholarly anthology for students/scholars/teachers of Translation Studies.

My experiences as a translator!

Assignment from NTM, CIIL, Mysore to translate a Knowledge Text of Zoology in Roman script into Maithili was decidedly a task of my academic taste. Ever since I am working on this project and have made considerable progress so far. Translating Invertebrate Zoology written by twin celebrated authors, E. L. Jordan and P. S. Verma into my mother tongue is in itself an enthralling and exciting experience. I enjoy the work at heart being associated with the teaching of Zoology since 1983 and hailing from Mithila region. While doing translation, I read in between the lines first and then jot down abstract translation maintaining cohesion, chronology and vibrancies of the original text as far as practicable. I know well that any attempt of verbatim translation will defeat the very purpose of NTM to bring out a reader-friendly Maithili translation. Many a time translator in me impersonate as prospective readers to assess my translation work from their perspective.

Science is often taken to be a boring subject and Knowledge Text, a big boredom. I want to break this myth by presenting illustrations and elaborations in easy to grasp and convincing manner. It is worth mentioning that at times finding out appropriate Maithili words for technical terms becomes a big challenge. I sort out this issue by consulting various dictionaries and discussing with my colleagues. Before I close, I would like to express my gratitude to NTM for trust in me. The cherished Maithili translation of Zoology text will undoubtedly be a true companion of Maithili knowing students opting Zoology as their core subject at tertiary level.
