

CONTRIBUTORS

Nandini Bhattacharya is the Head of the Department of English and Comparative Literature, Central University of Jammu. Her research interests are Critical theory, Genre studies, Translation Studies, 19th century colonial India studies, Race and Caste Studies, Gandhian studies, Tagore Studies, Book History, Spiritualism, Phrenology Studies, Education and Primer writing in Colonial India and Writings in Colonial Bengal. She has five books in her credit titled R.K. Narayan's The Guide: New Critical Idioms, A Lovesong to Our Mongrel Selves: Problematics of identity in the Novels of Salman Rushdie, Saratchandra Chattopadhyaya and the Colonial encounter, Mulk Raj Ananad's Untouchable and Rabindranath Tagore's Gora: A Critical Companion. She has published many articles on translation. Email ID: nandinibhattacharya60@gmail.com

Divya Johnson is the Assistant Professor in the Department of English, Mar Ivanios College, University of Kerala. She has published several articles in different academic journals. She is a member in the editorial board of New Man Publications and IJCLTS. Her area of specialisation is Literary Theory and English Language Teaching.

Deeepanjali Baruah has been teaching English in Jagannath Barooh College, Jorhat Asssam since 2002 till date. She has participated and presented papers in several National Seminars and in one International Seminar. She has also published several research papers in books, peer reviewed journals and magazines. She has completed a UGC funded research project entitled Centrality of Women in Assamese Ballads. She is interested in varied subjects such as Assamese Literature, Indian English Literature, Cultural Studies, Film Studies and Folklore.

Sapna Dogra is an Assistant Professor in the Department of English at P.G.D.A.V. College (Evening), University of Delhi. She holds a Ph.D. from Jawaharlal Nehru University. Her research interests include Folklore Studies, Translation Studies, Indian English Writing, Hindi Literature and Popular Literature. She can be reached at sapnardm@gmail.com.

Preethamol MK is an Assistant Professor in the Department of English. Mar Ivanios College, Trivandrum which is affiliated to the University of Kerala. Her areas of interest include Linguistics and Phonetics and Modern British Drama.

Divya Pradhan is an Assistant Professor in the Department of English, Mata Sundri College, University of Delhi. Her areas of interest are classical literature, modernism and Indian English writings.

Biswadip Gogoi is a Core Consultant in National Translation Mission. He is associated with various translation and localisation projects for popular products from Microsoft Corporation, Samsung Electronics, Xiaomi Inc. etc. He was part of the research team that produced more than 30 half an hour documentaries on different ethnic communities in Sikkim. He also translated and edited several children literature book series. His research interests include Cultural Studies, Translation and Localisation, Folklore Studies. He can be reached at gogoib2002@gmail.com.

Divya. N is an Assistant Professor in the Dept of English at Sree Kerala Varma College Thrissur. She was a research scholar in Centre for English Studies Jawaharlal Nehru University New Delhi. She was the recipient of the Ayyappa Panicker Poetry Foundation Award for the Best Young Malayalam poet in the year 2012. (Phone number :08301069579, 0471-2553025) (Email id : ndiv87@gmail.com)

Saratchandran Nair Velappan is currently working as the Project Director, National Translation Mission, CIIL, Mysore. Prior he had served at the Central Institute of Indian Languages, Mysore for more than 33 years and retired in the capacity of Prof-cum-

Deputy Director. Edited and published 8 volumes of Dictionaries between Malayalam, Tamil, Telugu and Kannada, samakaalina malayaLa vya:karaNam (a contemporary grammar of Malayalam), bhaasha:sa:stram innale, innu, na:Le (Linguistics; yesterday, today and tomorrow), malaya:La sa:hitya darppaNam (Advanced Course Reader in Malayalam), done research in the area of second language Acquisition, Malayalam language analysis, syntax and semantics. He started his career as a Research Associate (Linguistics) at Anthropological survey of India and worked on the language of Jarawas of Andaman Islands.

Najmeh Bahrami Nazarabadi is a lecturer of translation at Shahid Bahonar University, Kerman, Iran. Her research interests include translation studies, translation quality assessment, AVT translation, journalistic translation and legal translation. She published different articles on different area of translation studies in the local and international journals.

Indu Menon is currently working as a lecturer in KIRTADS. She has received many awards for her stories, which includes Yuva Puraskar from Kendra Sahitya Akademi, Gitahiranyan Award from Kerala Sahitya Akademi, Uroob award, Janapriya Trust award, Mathrubhumi Kathapuraskaram, Ankanam award, E.P. Sushama endowment, Malayala shabdham award, SBT Cherukatha award. She was one among the three young writers from India whom India Today selected during the year 2015.